Frank Lloyd
Wright Trust

CHICAGO

flwright.org

March 17, 2020 – June 11, 2021

On March 17, 2020, the Trust closed down public operations by government order due to the COVID-19 crisis. For the next fifteen months, this virus took many thousands of lives, restricted access to schools and churches, and damaged multi-generation owned small businesses across the country.

On June 11, 2021, the State of Illinois and the city of Chicago lifted all pandemic restrictions and a post-COVID era began.

The Frank Lloyd Wright Trust, a non-profit organization, has survived with the invaluable help of many.

MISSION

The mission of the Trust is to engage, educate and inspire the public through interpretation of Frank Lloyd Wright's design legacy and preservation of his original sites for future generations.

CORE VALUES

ENGAGEMENT

Engaging a broad and diverse local, regional, national and international audience through a dynamic cultural tourism program, a comprehensive and interactive website, and consistent marketing and communications initiatives.

EDUCATION

Affirming the contemporary relevance of Wright's design legacy by educating K-12 students through innovative design programs that nurture individual vision; by presenting quality adult enrichment programs, national/international travel programs; and by producing electronic/print publications.

INSPIRATION

Inspiring our audience through powerful aesthetic experiences of authentic Wright sites, preserved to Wright's original design vision.

FOR FUTURE GENERATIONS

Developing the Trust's resources and maintaining the Trust's financial stability in order to sustain Wright's original sites for future generations and ensure a lasting and secure future for the Trust, supported by strong community and business relationships and by dynamic Board engagement.

DEAR MEMBERS AND FRIENDS

Looking back on the 2020 COVID-19 crisis, the Trust's story is similar to that of many other cultural non-profits. Government required shutdowns caused dramatic organization-wide reductions, which had to be carried out quickly with equally dramatic fundraising efforts to maintain core operations during the crisis.

A Crisis Campaign led by the Board of Directors began in March 2020 with over $210,000 raised, half of this amount from the Board and an additional $110,000 from more than 200 individual donors. The Trust received two PPP loans, one in May 2020 and one in February 2021. A major loan came from our longtime friend and partner at the Emil Bach House, Tawani Foundation. Additional grants from State and local foundations carried us forward through the year, and our fall 2020 Annual Appeal surpassed all previous years with over $158,000 from 435 individuals, half of whom were first-time donors to the Trust.

2020 was a year of struggle and loss, but also of resilience and generosity. I recognize with profound respect and my deepest gratitude each of our Board members who acted quickly and courageously, our core staff members who worked with unwavering determination and hope, and to all of our Trust members who stayed with us, sustaining much-needed support and boosting our confidence. To all of our friends, old and new, you have made the difference in our survival, and to our recovery in 2021, as we recommit to thriving operations that faithfully serve our mission.

On behalf of the Accreditation Committee, it is my great pleasure to tell you that the Frank Lloyd Wright Trust is awarded reaccreditation. This means the museum continues to meet National Standards and Best Practice for U.S. Museums and remains a member of a community of institutions that have chosen to hold themselves publicly accountable to excellence. Through a rigorous process of self-assessment and review by its peers, the museum has shown itself to be a good steward of its resources held in the public trust and committed to a philosophy of continual institutional growth. The Frank Lloyd Wright Trust is an impressive organization which excels in the areas of education, research, and preservation. The institution's work in K-12 education and its IMLS funded "Teaching by Design" program is commendable.

In early 2021 the American Alliance of Museums awarded the Trust Museum Reaccreditation through 2030 for the Home and Studio and Robie House. The Accreditation Program is one of distinction in the museum world. The process is an exhaustive assessment of the organization and takes more than a year to complete. It was a significant project during 2020 with an October site review changed to a virtual review with all Trust departments participating. This was the 3rd 10-year accreditation for the Home and Studio and the 2nd for Robie House. Each accreditation marks the responsible growth of the Trust as we continue to evolve and look toward 2024, the 50th anniversary year of our founding.

During the 2020 COVID-19 crisis, temporary government-mandated closures of our sites reduced in-person tour attendance to approximately 22,000 guests, with limited tour capacity and with physical distancing. The Trust expanded digital programming to a wider remote audience, presenting six virtual tours of our sites, which drew more than 40,000 views.

REPORT OF THE PRESIDENT & CEO

Socially distanced tours at the Home and Studio began in the courtyard.

A new program in our Lost Works series of architectural recreations was the video: Wright's Lost Work: The Imperial Hotel, watched by over 100,000 viewers. A virtual presentation of Wright Night, the Trust's annual benefit evening, was attended by 800, four times the attendance of this annual in-person event. The 2020 Wright Night program allowed us to present the scope of the Trust organization with participation by Board members, staff, and volunteers.

Our signature program for educators, Teaching by Design, funded by the Institute of Museum and Library Services (IMLS) continued in a blended format, both virtual and limited capacity in-person sessions. The Trust education department created virtual activities for families and classes for young people, including virtual summer camps and a new virtual Youth Design and Architecture Club featuring after-school projects and activities. Students from as far away as Australia participated in the online classes.

The story of our survival in 2020, each week and each month, is told in the lists of Trust donors and members who supported us through the most challenging year in our history. All names are included in this report, and we are grateful to each individually. We were fortunate to experience the loyalty of returning patrons and the excitement of first-time contributors, whom we hope will remain with us as we set forth on the road to recovery. The number of donors in 2020 doubled the number of prior years. Everyone gave what they could to help. Trust membership reported an exceptional 70% renewals in a year when member benefits were unavoidably reduced.

REPORT OF THE PRESIDENT & CEO

Family members of Gloria Garofalo gather in the Home and Studio Playroom.

Among the tragic losses of life during 2020 was former Trust Board member and Director of Development Gloria Garafolo, whose family members gathered at the Home and Studio during the holidays to pay tribute to her. Gloria's long association with the Trust will be remembered and cherished.

Trust volunteers are at the center of our hearts. In 2020 more than ever, they worked shoulder to shoulder with staff members to keep the hearth alight with good work and selfless devotion. Our Board members set a high standard of generosity and commitment to the protection of our values and perpetuation of our mission.

2020 brought us together in a time of crisis. No one survives or succeeds alone. Together the Trust family rose to face unprecedented challenges and can now begin to move forward again.

Due to COVID-19 restrictions, our invitation-only benefit event and program took place online December 1, 2020.

Volunteer tour interpreter Joan Pantsios gave an interior tour of Wright's Robie House in Chicago.

Architect Rafael Viñoly sketched Robie House (front) in a video examining the history of the home and its influence on his design for The University of Chicago's Booth School of Business (back).

Volunteer tour interpreter Mark Scott gave an exterior tour of the William H. Winslow House in River Forest.

Wright Night attendees previewed Frank Lloyd Wright: The Lost Works - The Imperial Hotel, a digitally-animated recreation of the exterior and interior of this masterpiece.

Educators take part in a Teaching by Design workshop at Robie House.

In 2020, the Trust received two 3-year grant awards for Teaching by Design, from the Institute of Museum and Library Services (IMLS) and the Terra Foundation for American Art.

Teaching by Design integrates design-based inquiry and creative problem-solving into K-12 curriculum, connecting Wright's design philosophy to current issues in STEAM subjects.

Over the next three years, the project will engage 90 educators from over 40 area schools with the Trust's Wright sites, and reach thousands more across the country with 100 additional online lesson plans and resources.

Trust volunteers are integral to the success of our tours and operations. Volunteers lead site tours, assist with guests, and support special events and projects. Their commitment allows the Trust to fulfill its mission, and we are grateful for their contribution of time and service.

During the COVID crisis, many volunteers continued to introduce groups of very limited capacity to the Home and Studio and Robie House during the short intervals that those sites were open. Others exchanged their regular assignments for creative new roles assisting the Trust through the special challenges of 2020.

We are grateful to all of our volunteers, who are returning with renewed energy and purpose, as the Trust recovers and reopens our historic sites.
